

Four children allow 25 possible conflict configurations, but form only 6 sibling pairs

Ways n children can split into two opposing sides, others uninvolved: $(3^n - 2 \cdot 2^n + 1)/2$, vs. sibling pairs, $n(n-1)/2$ · a possibility space, no claim about actual conflicts

Source: OEIS A000392, $S(n+1, 3)$ · computed 2026-08-12 · exact counts, nothing estimated